

your career lifeline

Think back over your career so far.

Divide the timeline below into years, or your age, starting from when you feel your work life began.

Plot each of your roles, and memorable events within those roles, on the graph below; evaluating to what extent they were highs or lows. Label each point so that you can talk through with your coach.

